ARTICLE I. INTRODUCTION

SECTION 1.01 WELCOME

We hope that you will find the campus aesthetically pleasant, and the physical facilities, especially those designated for use by music students, comfortable and convenient. During the years, considerable pride in the Music Department and its organizations has developed. You are to be a part of that proud tradition which carries with it enormous opportunity and at the same time enormous responsibility.

You may count among your colleagues some of the most gifted young musicians in the Southeastern United States. You will find the interchange of musical ideas and knowledge stimulating. Furthermore, you will discover that healthy competition is a sound basis for professional growth and one means for evaluating what is needed for continued improvement.

The faculty, which will guide you in your musical studies at Furman, is truly distinctive. More than ninety-five percent of the full-time faculty hold doctorates and every teacher in music at Furman is a working professional performing musician. It is extremely important that you feel free to communicate with the faculty and the Music Department staff on any issues concerning your music study. No question is so trivial that it should go unanswered. Please do not hesitate to advise the faculty and staff about any problems that are encountered in the process of your musical study. Furthermore, advise your parents that they may feel free to communicate any concerns that they consider important to the department chair or to appropriate faculty members and staff.

It is the goal of the Music Department and its faculty that each of you who studies music will succeed at the highest level that your talent and ability allow. We wish you a truly rewarding and enriching musical year.

Following are guidelines that music students will find useful. This material supplements information contained in the University Catalog. This Handbook serves as a guide to students in planning their activities and courses in the Music Department.

ARTICLE II. DEPARTMENT MISSION AND GOALS

Although not explicitly stated in other promotional materials, the mission is implied in departmental brochures through our obvious support of music training and curriculum, through our commitment to liberal arts education, and through our strong ensembles and many campus and community performances. For further information, visit the Furman University website at www.furman.edu and follow the links to the Department of Music home page.

SECTION 2.01 MISSION STATEMENT

- To provide a high-quality, comprehensive undergraduate music education for uniquely talented and committed students who desire a career in the musical arts.
- To provide an overview of the musical arts to students who wish to study and experience music as part of a liberal arts education.
- To provide enrichment opportunities which can instill in all students a life-long love and appreciation for music and music making, and to actively extend these experiences beyond the Furman University community.

SECTION 2.02 GOALS

GOAL NO. 1 To be a vital contributing member of the Liberal Arts Community.

As a music department in a liberal arts college rather than a conservatory, Furman’s Department of Music cherishes its relationship with the university and strives to enhance the institution's well-being. Students of any major may participate in any of our ensembles. Our curriculum features courses designed to encourage a relationship between music and other disciplines. Our Introduction to Music classes attempt to show how societal trends influence the course of musical creativity and to encourage the student to view musical experiences from various perspectives. In addition, our department strives to hire faculty trained in the liberal arts and committed to a liberal arts approach in teaching and advising. The Music Department also offers a foreign study program in Arezzo, Italy. This program emphasizes the music and culture of Italy. Students take coursework in music history, conducting, performance studies, Italian arts and culture, and Italian language. Courses are taught by a combination of Furman professors and local faculty. Field trips to Rome, Venice, Florence and Milan, along with a full week of faculty-led exposure to Renaissance art in Tuscany, imbue this course with exceptional, experiential liberal learning components. The inclusion of core courses required in the music degree, as well as elective credits, makes this trip more attractive to students who have previously found foreign study programs difficult to fit into the highly structured music curriculum.

GOAL NO. 2 To help students develop cognitive skills in music that they may succeed in graduate school and in the music profession.

The Department of Music maintains a progressive curriculum that builds musical knowledge, aesthetic concepts, and skills necessary for comprehensive musicianship. The Department of Music offers a curriculum that incorporates developments in technology and musicology, enabling our faculty members to bring new pedagogical perspectives to the classroom and studio.

GOAL NO. 3 To provide opportunities in solo and ensemble performing so that students may learn a wide range of repertoire and develop stage performance skills.

We provide students a variety of performing opportunities. We encourage students to perform on weekly recitals and in junior and senior recitals. (Junior and senior recitals are required of performance majors and senior recitals are required of music education and church music majors.) Our honors recitals, oratorio concerts, opera productions, and concerto concerts allow outstanding students to perform publicly at a high level of artistry. The Department of Music requires music majors to perform each term in large ensembles, including the Furman Singers, Symphony Orchestra, Band, and Men’s and Women’s Chorales. Smaller ensembles, such as the Jazz Ensemble, Chamber Choir and numerous chamber ensembles, supplement the students’ performing experience. This ensemble experience provides students with exposure to a variety of musical styles and cultural contexts.

GOAL NO. 4 To expose students to concerts, recitals, and master classes by acclaimed musicians who exemplify dedication and artistry as priorities for musical development.

In addition to the numerous recitals by members of our faculty, students attend performances and master classes by visiting artists. These artists perform at Furman or other venues, such as Greenville’s Peace Center for the Performing Arts. The Greenville Symphony, The Greenville Chorale, and The Carolina Youth Symphony perform concerts that are open to our students. To enhance our students’ regular exposure to top-tier music professionals we have enlisted several nationally renowned Distinguished Visiting Professors of Music to perform and teach alongside our faculty. Noted violinist William Preucil and internationally acclaimed conductor Edvard Tchivzel are among the gifted musicians who routinely work with our students.
GOAL NO. 5 To identify and attract for music study highly talented students whose abilities indicate significant potential in music.

The Music Department must continually attract musically and academically gifted students to its program. To achieve this goal we commit a large measure of financial and staff resources. Through the work of our staff and faculty and with the aid of alumni, regional music teachers, church music professionals and others, we attempt to identify and recruit quality students. Studio teachers, ensemble directors, and the department chair contact prospective students via telephone, mail, and email. We share a database of student contact information with the university’s Admissions Office, and we coordinate and track the history of each contact, from initial inquiry to matriculation. In addition, our recruiting coordinator stays in close contact with all prospective music majors and facilitates visits to campus, sample lessons, and meetings with faculty. The department has taken full advantage of this increased organization and our recruitment process is more streamlined and effective. We disseminate information about our music program through brochures, a music magazine, our departmental website, and by hosting a wide array of musical events that bring to our campus high school-aged students, their teachers and parents.

GOAL NO. 6 To nurture strong ties between our music program and the music programs of primary and secondary schools, churches, and independent music teachers in this region.

Aside from the increased interaction between the public schools and the university for recruiting purposes, Furman’s Department of Music maintains a strong commitment to training public school teachers, and we routinely supply well-prepared music educators to teach in public and private music programs. We maintain strong ties with churches across the region and many of our students find employment in church music. Furman faculty serve public school programs as clinicians, soloists, and consultants. The South Carolina Governor’s School for the Arts and the Greenville Fine Arts Center, two excellent high school programs located in Greenville, employ Furman music faculty as adjunct teachers. Music faculty make presentations at all-state band and orchestra programs and at the South Carolina Music Teachers Association, often taking Furman ensembles to perform for conventions and meetings. Our faculty continue to develop new courses for public school teachers in South Carolina and offer workshops to provide continuing education experience for those educators. We also offer a graduate course, in conjunction with the South Carolina Music Educators (SCMEA) Conference, which allows public school teachers to obtain graduate-level credit and recertification credit through their attendance at and participation in the annual state in-service conference. In addition to the opportunities listed above, the Furman music faculty present a chamber music series of significant works for a variety of instrumental and vocal combinations. Performances take place at Furman and in prestigious venues within South Carolina. Our large ensembles (choral and instrumental) regularly tour the eastern seaboard. Venues include prominent churches and secondary schools whose students we seek to recruit to our program.
ARTICLE III. DEPARTMENT NOTICES

Recital schedules, notices of important meetings, announcements concerning new policies and revisions of existing policies, and other matters of importance will be communicated to music students through direct email or posting on the departmental message boards. Announcements pertaining to Music Department activities are posted on the entry foyer’s electronic message board, through e-mail and various OrgSync ensemble forums, and on the large bulletin boards outside D-109 and D-13. All music majors should check these various locations daily.

ARTICLE IV. GUIDELINES FOR NON-MUSIC MAJORS

The Music Department welcomes participation by non-music majors in course work, ensembles, and recital attendance. Audition schedules for ensembles are posted before registration and students are urged to audition. All qualified students are invited to participate in the various Music Department activities.

In order to satisfy the Core and Global Awareness (CGA) requirement for Visual and Performing Arts, a student may take Music 101, Basic Musicianship (four credits) or may take private lessons in Performance Studies (1 credit) in any instrument or in voice for four consecutive semesters. Any students wishing to exercise these options must take the appropriate placement audition or tests to qualify for enrollment. There are other options, both credit and non-credit, for taking music lessons as well. Contact the Music Office for more information.

ARTICLE V. GUIDELINES FOR MUSIC MAJORS

SECTION 5.01 AUDITIONS

All students desiring to be admitted into the music program must take a music theory placement examination. Students desiring to initiate performance studies, whether as a major or non-major elective, are required to audition prior to June registration. Freshman non-majors may audition for ensemble placement and/or lesson assignment during Orientation weekend their first Fall term. See audition criteria at http://www2.furman.edu/academics/music/ProspectiveStudents/Pages/Auditions.aspx.

SECTION 5.02 TRANSFER STUDENTS

All transfer students must take a music theory placement examination and perform an audition on instrument or voice before being admitted into a music degree program.

SECTION 5.03 RECITAL ATTENDANCE

- All music majors are required to complete seven semesters of recital attendance. To receive credit for attendance, each student must register for MUS-050 each semester and swipe their student ID card with a recital attendance monitor at the conclusion of each event.

- The number of recital credits required for each semester is twenty. It is the student’s responsibility to keep track of the status of his or her attendance. To keep up with what has been recorded, students can access their recital information on the MyFurman portal. Some events carry both CLP and recital credit. (Note: As of fall 2012, students enrolled in courses noted on the academic transcript, which regularly involve performance or production of CLP events as a requirement for the successful completion of the course, will receive one CLP credit for each semester for which they are enrolled. These courses include but are not limited to forensics, music ensembles, and theater productions. Accordingly, students will earn a single CLP credit for all ensembles each semester they are enrolled. 2 Ensembles = 2 CLP credits)

- Furman faculty members’ recitals carry double credit. Recital credit for as many as two non-university concerts or recitals each semester may be obtained by making the request for credit in advance, in writing to the Chair of the department and by turning in a program with a one-page typed description following the event.

SECTION 5.04 ENSEMBLE PARTICIPATION

All music majors are required to fulfill the departmental ensemble participation requirement during each of the four years of enrollment at Furman. Normally this requirement will be met by registering for and participating each term in the Furman Singers, Men’s or Women’s Chorale, Furman Symphony Orchestra, or Furman Band: Wind Ensemble or Symphonic Band (Marching Band in fall term). When a student returns for a fifth year, ensemble participation is required only if the student is receiving a music scholarship. (Piano and Guitar majors see Ensemble Participation Options in section 19.02.)
SECTION 5.05 CLASS ATTENDANCE

Class attendance policy is set by each professor. Fifteen percent absence for freshman is an automatic F, and twenty-five percent absence for sophomores, juniors and seniors is an automatic F, unless the teacher has announced a different policy.

SECTION 5.06 OUTSIDE PERFORMANCES

Any outside performances (non-music department-sponsored events)—church jobs, playing gigs, etc., must be secondary to a student's responsibilities in the Music Department’s program.

ARTICLE VI. ACADEMIC ADVISORS

For the freshman and sophomore years, the student will meet each term with the assigned faculty advisor to discuss curriculum planning and other matters of concern to the student. It is important to realize that it is the student’s responsibility to follow the guidelines posted in ARMS—the faculty advisor is provided to reinforce and guide you through the registration and scheduling process. ANY ENTERING FRESHMAN INTENDING TO MAJOR IN MUSIC WHO IS ASSIGNED A FACULTY ADVISOR FROM ANOTHER DEPARTMENT SHOULD IMMEDIATELY CONTACT THE OFFICE OF THE ASSOCIATE DEAN TO REQUEST A CHANGE IN ADVISOR.

At the end of the freshman year, each student is required to declare a major. Music students should download or request from the music office the form “Application for Music Major Declaration,” obtain the proper signatures, and return the form to the music office. Music advisors may change based on the intended major music students wish to pursue.

ARTICLE VII. MUSIC SCHOLARSHIPS

SECTION 7.01 STIPULATIONS

Music scholarships for entering freshmen and transfer students are awarded on the basis of competitive auditions/interviews held during specially scheduled weekends each year. Applicants audition during their senior year in high school (or the year prior to college transfer application). Scholarships are awarded on the basis of these competitive auditions/interviews and are renewable annually throughout the four years of undergraduate study, subject to the conditions specified in the original letter of notification. Any change in student status that alters the original agreement may also alter the amount of aid awarded. Example: If an award is presented based on the student’s decision to major in music; and the student opts to step away from the music major, then the award will be adjusted or withdrawn accordingly. The student must maintain a B average in music subjects and a C average in other subjects while participating satisfactorily in the activities of the Music Department. Scholarship aid is awarded only to full time students. Students on music scholarship are granted no more than one term exemption out of the eight for participating in a Furman-sponsored study-abroad program.

SECTION 7.02 AWARDS

Several endowed named scholarships have been established which provide substantial awards available to students already enrolled at Furman as well as to incoming students. These are listed in the University Catalog. Selection of recipients is made by the scholarship committee of the music faculty. Presentation of the endowed named scholarship awards is made each year during the Spring Honors Recital. The two most prestigious of these awards are: the Presser Scholarship awarded to an outstanding music major at the end of the student's junior year, the student to be known as a Presser Scholar; and the Mattie Hipp Cunningham Scholarship awarded to the music student showing greatest promise in the rising senior class. Among the premier scholarships awarded on the basis of the annual auditions are the Homozel Mickel Daniel Music Scholarships, the William R. and Eva McDonald Timmons Music Scholarships, and the Dorothy Hipp Gunter Music Scholarships.

ARTICLE VIII. ADMISSION TO MUSIC STUDY

Students who demonstrate potential for successful study and achievement in music are admitted into the freshman year sequence of music courses. All students desiring to be admitted into the music program must take a music theory placement examination and audition on instrument or voice. Audition specifics may be found at http://www2.furman.edu/academics/music/ProspectiveStudents/Pages/Auditions.aspx.

ARTICLE IX. APPROVAL FOR MUSIC MAJOR

In March of the freshman year, music students who wish to pursue a music major should submit an application to declare the major. To complete the Application for Music Major Declaration, the student must indicate his or her major curriculum and obtain the appropriate signatures from the faculty advisor and principal performance studies teacher. The completed form is then returned to the Music Office for processing.

A student who wishes to pursue a major in Performance, Music Education or Church Music must perform as a part of the second semester sophomore jury a fifteen-minute program before the performance studies faculty in the area of specialization and receive the approval from that group before the Bachelor of Music in one of these areas can be declared.

A student who wishes to pursue a major in Theory or Composition must complete a fifteen-minute interview before the theory/composition faculty and receive endorsement from that group before declaring a Bachelor of Music in either of these areas.

ARTICLE XI. GUIDELINES FOR CHURCH MUSIC STUDY

The Bachelor of Church Music degree is designed to prepare the student for a career as a church musician. Specific courses pertaining to the study of church music are supplemented by the opportunity to participate in Furman’s outstanding choral ensembles—Furman Singers, Furman Chamber Choir, and the Men’s and women’s Chorales—all of which are directed by experienced and committed church musicians, and perform substantial sacred repertory in a variety of styles each year. In addition, the annual Furman University Church Music Conference brings to the campus distinguished church musicians of national prominence to deliver lectures on subjects related to the study and practice of church music. These guest musicians are usually featured as directors and/or organists in hymn festivals and other concerts included as part of the conference. The capstone experience of the Church Music degree occurs during the spring term of a student’s senior year. MUS 440, Practicum in Church Music, involves an internship at a Greenville-area church which provides the student with practical experience in all areas of an active, excellent church music program.

Composition study is open to all students at Furman. Interested students are encouraged to consider one or more of the following:

(i) MUS 113: Composition Seminar

A one-credit general music elective for freshmen and sophomores considering a theory or composition major, or for students interested in composing and/or performing new music. The focus of the seminar changes each semester, so students may repeat the course as many as eight times.

(ii) MUS 311: Composition

A two-credit upper music elective for junior and senior music majors interested in composing and/or performing new music. The course also satisfies a requirement for the Bachelor of Music Theory degree and can serve as advanced study for Composition Majors. The course may be repeated for credit.

(iii) MUS 501: Independent Study

Composition Majors may take private lessons in composition for 1 or 2 credits. To qualify, students must submit a one-page proposal and Individualized Instruction Approval form during the semester preceding the term of the anticipated Independent Study (April 15 for Fall study and November 15 for Spring study).

(iv) MUS 412: Senior Project

Composition (and Theory) Majors must complete a Senior Project during the final semester of their senior year. As with Independent Study, students must submit a one-page proposal and Individualized Instruction Application form during the semester preceding.

(B) Juries

(i) Sophomore Jury

Students seeking to pursue a Bachelor of Music: Composition or Theory degree must complete an interview with members of the Theory/Composition Division. Consideration is given to the applicant's work in MUS 111, MUS 112, MUS 211, MUS 212 and, as applicable, MUS 113.

Each student enrolled in MUS 501: Independent Study or MUS 412: Senior Project must submit the results of his/her research/creative activity and complete an interview with members of the Theory/Composition Division.

(C) Performances

Performances/readings of student works/papers are encouraged and required. This can take several forms:

(i) Weekly student recitals

(ii) End-of-semestre juries

(iii) Junior and/or senior recitals, lectures, or lecture-recitals

(iv) Other performance/presentation opportunities

ARTICLE XIV. GUIDELINES FOR KEYBOARD STUDY

SECTION 14.01 PIANO STUDY

(A) PERFORMANCE MAJOR

(i) Performance Studies Credits

Students should take two credits each term of the freshman and sophomore year; four credits each term of the junior and senior year.
(ii) Recitals
A half recital (approx. 30 minutes) in the junior year and a full recital (approx. 60 minutes) in the senior year. All material is to be performed from memory, with the exception of avant-garde works of the twentieth century. Also a major chamber music work must be included in a public performance before graduation. Regular performance on student recitals is encouraged.

(iii) Practice time
Freshman / sophomore year - 15-20 hours per week
Junior / senior year - 25+ hours per week

(iv) Juries
Three works of contrasting styles by end of fall and spring terms each year. Memory is required, with the exception of avant-garde works of the twentieth century. A special performance jury is to be presented to the Keyboard Area in the spring term of the sophomore year in order to gain performance major standing.

Students who perform a recital in the second half of a term will be excused from a jury at the end of that term. Students who perform a recital in the first half of a term will plan an abbreviated jury at the end of that term.

(B) PRE-COLLEGE PIANO PROGRAM

All Performance majors are encouraged to teach in the pre-college program beginning in their sophomore year. (Piano for Young People coordinated by Ms. Danielle Jackson) Other advanced piano students are also welcomed to participate. Students are paid for their hours teaching through the Music Department. Requirements: Student must be at least a sophomore and be recommended by the student’s piano teacher. The student must participate in preliminary orientation seminars, given in the spring term, as well as weekly staff meetings during the academic year. The student must remain enrolled in keyboard lessons during the academic year in which their pre-college teaching occurs.

(C) ACCOMPANYING

Accompanying both vocalists and instrumentalists is encouraged for all advanced piano students. Pianists are paid minimum wage for studio accompanying that is approved by the Coordinator of Accompanying. Junior and Senior Performance majors may apply for permission to accompany in lieu of their ensemble requirements (see ensemble section 19.02).

SECTION 14.02 ORGAN STUDY

The study of organ at Furman is open to all students, both music majors and non-majors, who have attained a level of proficiency on the piano which allows them to perform such works as the Two and Three-Part Inventions or Preludes and Fugues of The Well-Tempered Clavier of Bach; easier sonatas of Haydn, Mozart, or Beethoven; and/or works of moderate difficulty from the 19th or 20th century repertory. Students taking organ for the first time will be asked to play a brief piano audition of representative works to verify this preparation.

(A) GOALS

(i) To develop the student’s technical and musical abilities in playing the instrument
(ii) To give the student an understanding of organ design and registration
(iii) To familiarize the student with the literature of the organ, as well as the instruments, registrations, and performance practices of particular countries, historical periods, and/or composers; to teach service playing skills.
(iv) To offer performance opportunities: Weekly performance classes are held to permit students to play for each other, and to discuss organ literature, design, registration, and other concerns. Students also play on departmental recitals in order to gain performing experience.

(B) PERFORMANCE STUDIES

(i) Organ study may be taken for 1, 2 or 4 credit hours (the latter is for Organ Performance majors in Junior and Senior years only), as well as for no credit. The minimum required practice time for students taking organ for no credit or 1 credit hour is 4-7 hours per week; for 2 credit hours/non-organ performance majors, 7-10 hours a week; for 2 credits/organ performance majors, 12-18 hours per week; and for 4 credits, 18-24 hours per week.

(ii) All students taking organ lessons for credit are required to perform a graded jury at the end of the term. (Students performing a solo recital during a given term will perform a recital approval jury one month before the recital; this approval jury will normally take the place of the regular end-of-term jury, except when the recital occurs during the first month of the term. In the latter case, a full or abbreviated regular jury will also be performed.) The juries, which are normally 12 minutes in length, are heard by members of the keyboard faculty. Students will perform three contrasting works appropriate to their level of advancement; at least one of these works must be played from memory. The jury grade is averaged into the student’s semester grade.

(iii) Students intending an organ performance major will perform a special, 20-minute jury in the spring term of their sophomore year. This jury will determine acceptance into the performance major.

(iv) Church Music majors whose principal instrument is organ are required to complete 12 hours of Performance Studies in that instrument, and 4 hours of study in voice (the latter may include Voice Class as well as Performance Studies). Music Education majors whose principal instrument is the organ are required to complete 12 hours of applied organ study, and 6 hours of a secondary instrument or voice.

(v) Students majoring in Organ Performance are required to complete a total of 24 hours of applied organ study.

(C) RECITALS

Organ Performance majors will normally present a half recital of approximately 35 minutes length during their Junior year, and a full solo recital of not less than 50 minutes length in their Senior year. Memorization of these recitals is encouraged, but not required.

(D) REQUIRED COURSES

In addition to the prescribed courses for the music major, Organ Performance majors must also take MUS 560 (Keyboard Performance Topics); 563 (Harpsichord) for at least one term; 451 (Piano Pedagogy); 452 (Service Playing); and 422 (History and Literature of the Organ). It is further strongly recommended that organ majors take one or more of the following conducting/church music courses: MUS 354 (Choral Conducting), 340 (Church Music Ministry), and 341 (Hymnology).

(E) INSTRUMENTS

Organs on campus include the Hartness Organ, a 3 manual, 42 stop tracker action instrument by C.B. Fisk, located in the Charles E. Daniel Memorial Chapel; a 3 manual, 29 stop Holtkamp organ in McAlister Auditorium; and practice organs by Steiner, Ott, Kuziel, and Holtkamp. Organ students will have the opportunity, through attendance at recitals, church services, and field trips to hear and play other major organs in the Greenville area and beyond.

ARTICLE XV. GUIDELINES FOR STRING STUDY

SECTION 15.01 PERFORMANCE STUDIES

Instruction in string instruments (violin, viola, violoncello, double bass, guitar, and harp) is available by audition to non-music majors and music majors for 0, 1, or 2 hours of credit. Music performance majors may register for 4 hours of credit each semester of their junior and senior years. Students enrolled for non-credit lessons are not graded. Enrollment is limited and must be arranged with the consent of the instructor or the department chair.

(A) LESSON TIMES
Students enrolled in performance studies for 1 hour of credit will receive one half-hour lesson per week or equivalent, while students registered for 2 or 4 hours of credit will receive an hour lesson weekly or the equivalent. Instructors may also require attendance and performance at group studio-classes, or attendance at performances by students, faculty, or guest artists.

(B) PRACTICE EXPECTATIONS
A level of weekly practice commitment is expected dependent on the degree program of each student. Students should sign up for practice room times at the beginning of each term. Recommended minimum amount of time to be devoted to practice is as follows:

- BM - Performance: 3-4 hrs. daily
- BM - other: 2 hrs. daily
- BA (Music): 1-2 hrs. daily
- Non-Major: 5 hours per week

(C) EVALUATION AND GRADING
Final grades are based on: (1) quality of the jury performance (see below), (2) preparation for lessons including a consideration of the amount and difficulty of repertoire assigned, (3) general progress in technique and musicianship, and (4) attendance at lessons, studio classes, or other events required by the instructor.

(D) PERFORMANCE JURY
Students enrolled in performance studies for credit must sign up for and perform for a jury made up of members of the string faculty at the end of the fall and spring semesters. Students will complete a jury repertoire sheet in advance of the audition. The music to be performed for the jury will come from repertoire and technical exercises assigned by the instructor over the term. The evaluation of these juries will be a component in each student’s grade for the course.

(E) BACHELOR OF MUSIC DEGREE APPROVAL
(i) To enroll as a Junior Performance Major a student must obtain approval of the string faculty through presentation of a pre-recital or a double-length jury, usually at the end of the sophomore year.
(ii) To enroll as a Junior Music Education Major a student is required to successfully complete a double length exit jury at the end of their sophomore year to determine if they have a basic mastery of the technique on their instrument. If mastery level is not met, a student may be required to take further instruction for non-credit before admission to the major is permitted.

SECTION 15.02 RECITALS
Performance is integral to the study of any string instrument. Students registered in applied string study are strongly encouraged to seek out performance opportunities both on and off-campus, including studio classes and weekly Tuesday departmental recitals. All performances should be in consultation with the applied teacher.

Performance majors are required to present a half recital during their junior year and a full recital in their senior year. Music education majors are required to present a half recital during their junior or senior year before beginning student-teaching. Bachelor of Arts music majors and non-majors may – with the approval of division - present at a half (or occasionally whole) recital.

All string recitals are subject to a pre-recital jury which must be approved by a committee made up of members of the string faculty at least three weeks in advance of the performance.

SECTION 15.03 ENSEMBLES/CHAMBER MUSIC
Students enrolled in performance studies are expected to enroll in MUS 060, Furman Symphony Orchestra.
Chamber music is also considered an important part of the string music curriculum. All string students are encouraged to audition for the Hartness and the Gladden String Quartets which are formed by audition at the beginning of each fall semester. Membership in these quartets comes with a $1,000 scholarship. The members of these quartets meet for weekly coaching sessions and rehearse for at least two hours weekly. Both quartets perform publicly as well as for university events. Other chamber music groups are created on an ad hoc basis. Students participating in chamber music ensembles should enroll in MUS 072 (String Chamber Music) or MUS 073 (String Quartet).

ARTICLE XVI. GUIDELINES FOR VOICE STUDY

SECTION 16.01 PERFORMANCE STUDIES

For acceptance to Voice Performance Studies, students audition for the voice faculty. The student’s preference for a specific teacher will be honored whenever possible.

(A) VOICE LESSONS

Voice lessons are offered for 0 credit, 1 credit, 2 credits, and 4 credits. Only Voice Performance majors may study voice for 4 credits. Students studying for 1 credit take one 25-minute lesson per week. Students studying for 2 or 4 credits take two 25-minute lessons or one 50-minute lesson per week. Furman offers two sections of voice for 0 credit, one involving one 25-minute lesson, the other involving two 25-minute lessons, per week.

(B) PRACTICE

Voice teachers will specify frequency and duration of practice for their students. In general, the voice faculty expects students to practice 30 minutes to 1 hour per credit each day. That means a student taking voice for 2 credits will practice 1 to 2 hours per day. Ensemble and opera rehearsals do not count toward practice time.

(C) DEFINITION

Voice principals are students majoring or intending to major in music whose principal instrument is voice.

(D) REPERTOIRE REQUIREMENT

Students’ voice teachers will assign them appropriate repertoire for their voice type and level of accomplishment. The voice faculty expects students to perform from memory a minimum of three songs per credit each term, at least half in languages other than English. Teachers expect voice principals to perform more advanced repertoire than non-principals and for Voice Performance majors to perform the most advanced repertoire.

(E) VOICE JURY

At the end of each term, students taking voice for credit sing a jury, a performance for the voice faculty. At the jury, the student chooses the first song and faculty who do not teach the student choose one or more songs. Each voice faculty member submits a grade and comments on the performance to the student’s teacher.

(F) VOICE GRADING

Students’ voice teachers assign the final grades for their students based on many criteria, which may include the students’ progress in technique, style, and interpretation; their preparation for lessons; their language accuracy and understanding; successful memorization of the repertoire; and quality of the jury performance.
SECTION 16.02  VOICE RECITALS
Concerning voice recitals, the following guidelines and procedures supersede all other recital guidelines and procedures in this Student Handbook.

(A) DEFINITIONS
A whole recital consists of 40 to 45 minutes of music. A half recital consists of 20 to 25 minutes of music.

(B) GUIDELINES
(i) The voice faculty encourage students to perform during their teachers’ weekly studio classes and on the weekly departmental student recitals. Students are encouraged to audition for solos in oratorio, opera, and lyric theatre performances.

(ii) Students must have earned 6 credits in voice before the term in which they present a recital, and they must be studying for a minimum of two credits during the term of the recital.

(C) PROCEDURES
Students majoring in any degree follow the same procedures to obtain recital approval.

(i) With the support of their applied teachers, students perform a “recital permission jury” in place of their regular jury at the end of the term preceding the recital. Teachers expect students to prepare more songs than a student would perform at a regular jury and at a level of difficulty appropriate for the upcoming recital.

(ii) At least three weeks before the recital date, the student presents a “recital hearing” with all performers present. Students hand to the teachers a list of all repertoire on the recital, with accurate timings of each piece. A minimum of three voice teachers (the student’s teacher and two other voice teachers) judge the readiness of the performance in a jury-like setting where the student chooses the first selection and teachers choose one or more selections. The teachers then vote on approving the recital as performance-ready.

(D) REQUIREMENTS BY MAJOR
Voice Performance majors present a half recital during their junior year and a whole recital during their senior year. Church Music majors present a whole recital during their senior year. Music Education majors present a half recital during the fall term of their senior year.

(E) ELECTIVE RECITALS
Following these procedures and guidelines, any voice student, with the support of her/his voice teacher, may petition the voice faculty for permission to present a half recital.

SECTION 16.03  MAJORS
The voice faculty expects students to discuss and to decide with their voice teachers the appropriate music majors for them to pursue.

(A) MAJOR APPROVALS
At the end of the sophomore year, students sing an extended jury requesting permission from the voice faculty to pursue their particular majors. The entire music faculty votes to approve each student’s major. Before the jury, students intending to major in voice performance must have earned at least 6 credits in voice and those intending other voice principal majors must have earned at least 4 credits in voice.

(B) REPERTOIRE
The voice faculty expects Voice Performance majors, and encourages other voice principal majors, to sing a wide variety of repertoire during their years of study at Furman, including English, Italian, German and French art songs and arias, including repertoire from oratorios and operas, and exploring every style period.

(C) PARTICIPATION

The voice faculty expects Voice Performance majors, and encourages other voice students, to participate in lyric theatre productions and to audition for solo roles in oratorio and choral performances.

ARTICLE XVII. GUIDELINES FOR WIND/PERCUSION STUDY

SECTION 17.01 PRACTICE

RECOMMENDATIONS

1 credit of study = 1 hour practice per day
2 credits of study = 2 hours practice per day
3 credits of study = 3 hours practice per day
4 credits of study = 3-4 hours practice per day

SECTION 17.02 WOODWIND STUDY

(A) PERFORMANCE STUDIES

Instruction is offered in flute, piccolo, oboe, English horn, clarinet, bass clarinet, bassoon, contra bassoon, and saxophone for 0, 1, 2, 3 or 4 hours of credit. Students studying for credit must perform a 6-10 minute jury at the conclusion of each semester of study. This jury will be adjudicated by members of the winds and percussion faculty.

(B) RECITALS

All students are encouraged to perform in student recitals. Performance majors will perform both a half recital during their junior year, and a full recital during their senior year. Performance majors should register for Chamber Music Coaching (1 hour credit) during the semester in which the student will perform either the junior or senior recital. Music Education majors are required to give a thirty-minute recital. This is normally presented in the fall semester of the senior year, but may be performed in the spring semester of the junior year with prior approval granted by the wind and percussion faculty. Approval for these recitals must comply with the music department policies found elsewhere in this handbook.

(C) CHAMBER ENSEMBLES

Participation in a woodwind ensemble is encouraged and open to all students enrolled at Furman. Chamber music is a vital experience to all students who wish to major in music. Each term, various ensembles are formed, and some ensembles may include the use of French Horn. Interested students should enroll in MUS 070 01. The activities of these ensembles serve to increase the students’ awareness of the performance in, and the literature of woodwind chamber ensembles. Ensembles participate in a wide variety of musical activities including Student Recital Performances and other University events. Larger woodwind ensembles are formed from these smaller groups as interest and need dictate.

(D) SOPHOMORE LEVEL JURY

(i) At the end of the sophomore year, all woodwind students applying for admission to the music education and performance bachelor degree programs must perform a jury for the wind and percussion faculty.

(ii) For intended Bachelor of Music in Music Education woodwind students, this jury will consist of a performance of a representative solo with accompaniment from the established instrument repertory and the successful performance of all major and minor scales with arpeggios by memory. Each studio will prescribe the tempo and format for the scales and arpeggios.

(iii) For intended Bachelor of Music in Music Performance woodwind students, this jury will consist of a performance of two representative solos (at least one with piano accompaniment) from the established instrument repertory and the successful performance of all major and minor scales with arpeggios by memory. Each studio will prescribe the tempo and format for the scales and arpeggios.

(iv) Students will be asked to sight read a short passage.
(v) Based upon this jury, the wind and percussion faculty will make a recommendation for acceptance into the appropriate degree program to the chair of the department.

SECTION 17.03 BRASS STUDY

(A) PERFORMANCE STUDIES

Instruction is offered in trumpet, French horn, trombone, baritone (euphonium), and tuba for 0, 1, 2, 3 or 4 hours of credit. Students studying for credit must perform a 6-10 minute jury at the conclusion of each term of study. This jury will be attended by the members of the winds and percussion faculty.

(B) RECITALS

Performance majors will perform both a shared (or half) recital during their junior year, and a full solo recital in their senior year. All required recitals must contain one work for chamber ensemble comprised of three or more players. Performance majors should register for Chamber Music Coaching (1 hour credit) during the semester in which the student will perform either the junior or senior recital. Beyond this, works included on the program are determined by the student and teacher. Music Education majors are required to give a thirty-minute recital. This is normally presented in the fall semester of the senior year, but may be performed in the spring semester of the junior year with prior approval granted by the wind and percussion faculty. Approval for these recitals must comply with the music department policies found elsewhere in this handbook.

(C) CHAMBER ENSEMBLES

Brass chamber ensembles (trios, quartets, quintets, etc.) are organized at the beginning of each academic year. Participation in brass ensembles is encouraged and open to all students enrolled at Furman. Students participating in brass ensembles should enroll in MUS 069 01. The activities of these ensembles serve to increase the students’ awareness of the performance in, and the literature of brass chamber ensembles. Ensembles participate in a wide variety of musical activities including Student Recital Performances and other University events. Larger brass ensembles are formed from these smaller groups as interest and need dictate.

(D) SOPHOMORE LEVEL JURY

(i) At the end of the sophomore year, all brass students applying for admission to the music education and performance bachelor degree programs must perform a jury for the wind and percussion faculty.

(ii) For intended Bachelor of Music in Music Education brass students, this jury will consist of a performance of a representative solo with accompaniment from the established instrument repertory and the successful performance of all major and minor scales with arpeggios by memory. Each studio will prescribe the tempo and format for the scales and arpeggios.

(iii) For intended Bachelor of Music in Music Performance brass students, this jury will include the same requirements as the Music Education candidates, with the following exceptions: performance candidates will perform two contrasting works (at least one with piano accompaniment); candidates will play three excerpts from the standard orchestral repertoire (as determined by the studio); and, candidates will not be required to play arpeggios.

(iv) Students will be asked to sight read a short passage.

(v) Based upon this jury, the wind and percussion faculty will make a recommendation for acceptance into the appropriate degree program to the chair of the department.

SECTION 17.04 PERCUSSION STUDY

(A) PERFORMANCE STUDIES - PERCUSSION (MUS 551)

All percussionists majoring in music are required to register for these lessons until the requirements are satisfied for their particular major in music. These students will receive a comprehensive percussion program which will prepare them for all facets of percussion performance. Any other student may register for lessons in which case the course of study is determined by the student's percussion performance... goals. All percussionists receiving music scholarships must take private lessons. Those participating in Furman University instrumental ensembles are encouraged to take private lessons.

(B) RECITALS

Performance majors will perform a shared (or half) recital during their junior year and a full solo recital in their senior year. All required recitals must contain one work for chamber ensemble comprised of three or more players. Beyond this, works included on the program are determined by the student and teacher. Performance majors should register for Chamber Music Coaching (1 hour credit) during the semester in which the student will perform either the junior or senior recital. Music Education majors are required to give a thirty-minute recital. This is normally presented in the fall semester of the senior year, but may be performed in the spring semester of the junior year with prior approval granted by the wind and percussion faculty. Approval for these recitals must comply with the music department policies found elsewhere in this handbook.

(C) ENSEMBLES

(i) Percussion Ensemble (MUS 071 01)

The Furman Percussion Ensemble is a chamber ensemble that meets each term. The ensemble typically performs several off-campus concerts and a major campus concert in April. Membership is open to all musicians, with preference to those with percussion skills. Percussionists who are majoring in music are required to participate.

(ii) Symphonic Winds (MUS 061 01)

All percussionists are encouraged to register for this ensemble. Membership in the Symphonic Winds is by audition. All percussionists receiving band scholarships are required to be in one of these bands. Music majors are also required to participate.

(iii) Marching Band (MUS 061 01)

Membership in this large percussion section is open to any qualified musician. Auditions determine membership with instrument assignments being made by the staff. Sectional rehearsals begin one-half hour before full band rehearsals and attendance is required. Percussionists receiving band scholarships as well as those majoring in music are required to participate. This ensemble meets only in the fall semester.

(iv) Symphony Orchestra (MUS 060 01)

Membership is by audition. Percussionists majoring in music are required to register for Orchestra each semester; however, assignments are determined by the instrumentation of the concert repertoire.

(D) SOPHOMORE LEVEL JURY

(i) At the end of the sophomore year, all percussion students applying for admission to the music education and performance bachelor degree programs must perform a jury for the wind and percussion faculty.

(ii) For intended Bachelor of Music in Music Education percussion students, this jury will consist of a performance of a representative solo from the each of the following categories: snare drum/multiple percussion, marimba, and timpani (three solos total). The jury will also consist of a successful performance of all major and minor scales with arpeggios by memory in a tempo and format prescribed by the instructor.

(iii) For intended Bachelor of Music in Music Performance percussion students, this jury will consist of a performance of a representative solo from the each of the following categories: snare drum/multiple percussion, marimba, and timpani (three solos total). The jury will also consist of a successful performance of all major and minor scales by memory in a tempo and format prescribed by the instructor.

(iv) Students will be asked to sight read a short passage.
Based upon this jury, the wind and percussion faculty will make a recommendation for acceptance into the appropriate degree program to the chair of the department.

ARTICLE XVIII. PERFORMANCE JURIES

Performance studies juries are mandatory for Music Majors (and non-majors receiving credit) in the area of their primary applied study. Performance studies teachers are responsible for instructing their students as to jury procedures and for insuring that they follow these procedures. Exception: The requirement is waived during the term in which the student performs a juried recital.

ARTICLE XIX. ENSEMBLES

SECTION 19.01 PARTICIPATION REQUIREMENTS

All music majors and intended majors are required to fulfill the departmental ensemble participation requirement during each semester of enrollment at Furman beginning with the first semester of the freshman year. Normally this requirement will be met by participation in either the Furman Singers, Furman Men’s and Women’s Chorale, Furman Symphony Orchestra (stringed instrument players), Furman Marching Band, Wind Ensemble or Symphonic Band (wind and percussion players).

If a music scholarship is awarded in a particular area of performance, that student is obliged to participate in the appropriate ensemble as assigned by the Coordinator of Choral Ensembles or the Coordinator of Instrumental Ensembles. Guidelines for "satisfactory" participation in the ensemble will be reviewed by the ensemble director at the beginning of each term.

A student who agrees to participate in any ensemble is responsible for maintaining satisfactory attendance at rehearsals and performing at the expected level of proficiency as specified by the conductor of the ensemble. If a student desires to participate in more than one ensemble, it is the student's responsibility to maintain the level of involvement specified by the conductors.

SECTION 19.02 PARTICIPATION OPTIONS

The following are alternatives to the usual pattern of fulfilling the ensemble participation requirements:

(A) FALL TERM WIND/PERCUSSION STUDENTS

During the fall term of the junior or senior year, a performance major in a wind or percussion instrument may elect, with faculty approval, to participate in the Furman Symphony Orchestra instead of Marching Band.

(B) PIANO AND ORGAN STUDENTS

Junior and/or senior piano and organ performance majors may substitute significant and well-prepared studio and recital accompanying for ensemble participation. Students choosing this option will be required to accompany, without remuneration, two upper-class students per year for their weekly lessons, rehearsals, performances, juries, as well as their junior or senior recital. This must be approved by the Keyboard Area Coordinator and the Department Chair by the end of the term prior to the term for which the student elects this option. Ensemble participation is an important and integral part of the collegiate educational experience. The opportunity to participate and perform with one of the ensembles is valuable to the development of well-rounded and complete musicianship. It is expected that students will participate in an ensemble most relevant to the intended major.

(C) GUITAR STUDENTS

During the spring term of each year, music majors whose primary instrument is the guitar may elect to join the Guitar Ensemble to fulfill their major ensemble requirement. During the fall term of each year these students must be enrolled in a major choral ensemble, band or orchestra, as assigned by the faculty. Jazz guitarists may use the Jazz Ensemble as their major ensemble during fall term with permission from the Jazz Ensemble director after passing the audition.
SECTION 19.03  CHORAL PROGRAMS

Furman University and excellence in choral music have been synonymous for many years. From the outstanding Men’s Glee Clubs of the 1930s and 1940s through the national reputation of the Furman Singers for the past 60 years, Furman has built one of the strongest undergraduate programs in choral music and choral conducting in the country. Each year, ensembles present two major choral-orchestral works with the Furman Orchestra—an oratorio in December and a major work in May. Membership in the choral ensembles is by audition and is open to all Furman students, majors and non-majors.

(A) FURMAN CHAMBER CHOIR

The Chamber Choir is an elite ensemble with membership selected through special auditions in the spring of each year. The Chamber Choir performs concerts of vocal chamber music in Daniel Memorial Chapel and at various regional locales/events. Students earning placement in Chamber Choir receive additional vocal scholarship support. The Chamber Choir is directed by Dr. Hugh Ferguson Floyd.

(B) FURMAN SINGERS

Membership in the Furman Singers is open to all Furman students by audition. Upperclassmen audition in the spring, freshman and transfers in the Fall. Participation in Singers is a full year commitment. Rehearsals are Tuesday/Thursday, 3:30-5:30 PM in Harper Hall, Herring Music Pavilion.

Each year the Singers represent the university with concert tours throughout the East and South, performing for churches and schools and at other public functions. Locally, they present on-campus concerts and other performances throughout the school year. Often these concerts are aired over public television or radio, and limited edition recordings are made available to the public.

Singers repertoire consist primarily of serious, sacred music from all historical periods. A typical concert includes poly-choral works, representative works from the Classical and Romantic periods, and some of the best of today’s church music. The touring group is limited to 80 and presents a broad spectrum of music, from major oratorios to delicate Renaissance motets. This flexible group also presents a variety of entertaining popular music, from spirituals to jazz arrangements and show tunes. Furman Singers is directed by Dr. Hugh Ferguson Floyd.

(C) FURMAN WOMEN’S CHORALE

The Furman Women’s Chorale is open to all Furman female students. The Chorale performs a wide variety of musical styles from choral classics to selections from musical theater. In addition to campus concerts, the Women’s Chorale combines with Furman Singers for the two oratorio performances each year. Rehearsals are on Tuesday and Thursday at 1:00-2:15 PM. The Women’s Chorale is directed by Dr. Vivian Hamilton.

(D) FURMAN MEN’S CHORALE

The Furman Men’s Chorale is open to all Furman male students. The Chorale performs a wide variety of musical styles from choral classics to selections from musical theater. In addition to campus concerts, the Men’s Chorale combines with Furman Singers for the two oratorio performances each year. Rehearsals are on Tuesday and Thursday at 1:00-2:15 PM. The Men’s Chorale is directed by Mr. James M. Keesler, Jr. (Rusty).

(E) ORATORIO CHORUS

The Furman Oratorio Chorus offers all Furman students, faculty and staff the opportunity to take part in the two major oratorio performances presented by the music department. Rehearsals are generally for a six-week period beginning in the middle of the fall and spring terms—Tuesday and Thursday, 3:30-5:30 PM.

SECTION 19.04  INSTRUMENTAL PROGRAMS

(A) FURMAN SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The Furman University Symphony Orchestra is a 75 member, all-student orchestra that rehearses twice weekly on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3:30-5:30 PM. There are normally 10-12 rehearsals during the year outside of the regularly scheduled class time. Attendance at all rehearsals is required. Registration for orchestra carries responsibility for attending all rehearsals. Rehearsal of parts outside of scheduled rehearsals is expected when needed.

In addition to presenting two full orchestral programs and a chamber orchestra concert each year, the orchestra joins the combined Furman choral groups for fall and spring oratorios.

The Furman Symphony Orchestra provides opportunities for students to perform compositions of the great masters from all eras. Membership is granted by registration with the final appointment of individuals in winds and percussion determined by faculty members in each respective section. String players are auditioned for individual seating.

(B) SYMPHONIC WINDS

The Symphonic Winds is the top instrumental ensemble on campus and is open to music and non-music majors. Auditions for seating occur at the beginning of each term and consist of one prepared piece, two orchestral excerpts, and sight-reading.

During Fall term, the Symphonic Winds meet in conjunction with the Marching Band on Mondays from 3:30 – 5:30 pm. During Spring Term, the Symphonic Winds rehearse on Mondays and Wednesdays from 4:30-5:30 PM. All Wind/Percussion scholarship recipients and all Wind/Percussion music majors are required to play in the Symphonic Winds.

(C) PALADIN REGIMENT MARCHING BAND

The Marching Band exists during Fall Term only. Participation is open to the entire university. There are no audition requirements for participation, though prior experience is essential.

- Rehearsals

  Rehearsals are Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 3:45-5:45 PM. (Some Mondays will be utilized at the discretion of the staff.) On Game Days, there is a final run-through at 9:00 a.m. The Marching Band has a four-day fall "camp" on campus starting on Sunday before freshman orientation. The University covers all costs to boarding students. Band students are permitted to move into their assigned campus housing at the start of camp week.

- Participation

  Rehearsals begin on time and there are no unexcused absences. Any absence must be authorized by the director. Smoking and/or drinking are not allowed at rehearsals or performances or at any time the band is assembled as a group representing Furman University. In addition, band members, when visible in uniform, will be seen only in full uniform (fully buttoned, gloves, hat, etc.) Attendance at all marching band performances is mandatory and a schedule of all performances will be given to each member at the beginning of each fall term. If any member misses a rehearsal on the day prior to or the day of a performance, they may not be allowed to march at that performance.

  All students on a wind/percussion scholarship and all wind/percussion music majors must participate in the Marching Band during fall term. The only exceptions are double reed principals, and Junior and Senior Music Performance Majors so long as they participate in orchestra and a regularly scheduled chamber ensemble. However, they are welcome to participate in the marching band if they so choose.

  Any extra rehearsals will be announced two weeks in advance. If two weeks-notice is not given, the rehearsal is not subject to the above policies.

  Peripheral rehearsals or performances (church jobs, other paid or non-paid "gigs") do not constitute an excused absence. Band rehearsals and performances are first priority.

- Uniforms, Instruments, Music

  The University provides all uniform parts with the exception of black shoes, black socks, and white cotton gloves. The University will provide certain instruments for the Marching Band: sousaphones, mellophones, marching baritones and percussion. Other instrumentalists must furnish their own instruments.
All University-owned instruments and uniforms must be turned in to the property managers before the end of each fall term. Failure to do so will result in the withholding of grades.

Music will be distributed to each person by the Band Librarian. Each person is responsible for the music and will return it upon request of the librarian. Failure to return music and/or pay for lost or damaged music results in withholding of grades.

(D) GUITAR ENSEMBLE
In the Guitar Ensemble there is a strong emphasis placed on reading music together and following a conductor. This ensemble will meet in the Spring Semester only, with rehearsals occurring on Tuesday and/or Thursday in the early evening. This ensemble is co-conducted by Professors Steven Walter and J. Steve Watson and is open to both music majors and non-music majors, classical and jazz guitarists.

(E) JAZZ ENSEMBLE
The Jazz Ensemble is a traditional big band and is formed at the beginning of Fall Term, and is open to music majors and non-music majors alike. University-wide auditions are held the first week of classes during Fall Term. Detailed audition information is posted on the music department website during the summer. If selected, participation is expected for the full academic year. The Jazz Ensemble rehearses Tuesdays from 5:30-7:00 PM and Thursdays from 2:30-3:20 PM, and performs for a variety of functions throughout the year. In order to perform in the Jazz Ensemble, students are required to register for MUS 067 for zero hours of credit.

(F) JAZZ COMBOS
Jazz combos are smaller jazz groups, are more improvisation-focused than the Jazz Ensemble, and are open to music majors and non-music majors alike. University-wide auditions are held the first week of classes during Fall Term. Detailed audition information is posted on the music department website during the summer. Rehearsals for these groups are TBA, but average 2 hours per week, which includes one faculty coaching session per week. The combos also perform at a variety of functions each year. In order to perform in a Jazz Combo, students are required to register for MUS 068 for zero hours of credit.

(G) BASKETBALL BAND
During basketball season the Band Program provides a Basketball Band for each home game. The Basketball Bands are open to all participants in the Band Program. The Basketball Bands also travel to perform at the season-ending Southern Conference Tournament each year. The attendance and professional behavior codes set forth in the Marching Band section apply to all ensembles in the Band Program.

ARTICLE XX. OPERA PERFORMANCE
Furman has a strong tradition of training successful singer-actors within challenging classes and productions. Furman Opera is dedicated to extending the musical experiences of undergraduate students through the policy of casting only students in opera roles, providing them with professional coaching and stage direction, and beginning their operatic stage careers in highly successful performances.

SECTION 20.01 Opera Performance Studies
Opera Performance Studies allows students to study characterization and acting on the operatic stage, culminating in a performance of scenes from various operas. This class is open to all Furman students with operatic voices.

SECTION 20.02 Opera Performance
Opera Performance features a fully staged production of opera with costumes and make up, and, when appropriate, orchestra and scenery. Open to all Furman students with operatic voices.

ARTICLE XXI. CHAMBER MUSIC
Chamber music is an important part of the music curriculum in all areas of instrumental study.
Woodwind and brass groups and involving various combinations of instruments are organized and rehearsed for performance throughout the year. Information on the organization of these ensembles will be dispersed at the beginning of fall term. The Al Bergman Saxophone Quartet is also a scholarship ensemble selected by audition.

All string students are encouraged to audition for the Hartness and the Gladden String Quartets which are formed by audition at the beginning of each fall term. Membership in these quartets comes with an additional annual scholarship. The members of these quartets meet for weekly coaching sessions and rehearse for at least two hours weekly. Both quartets perform publicly as well as for university events. Other string and mixed chamber groups involving string players are formed on a semester-by-semester basis in consultation with faculty.

From large multi-percussion ensembles to more delicate groupings, faculty member Omar Carmenates offers total submersion into all aspects and possibilities of the percussive world. Membership is open to music students from other performance areas. The ensembles rehearse in the evening and perform several times during the year on and off campus.

Pianists are encouraged to be involved in chamber music. For Piano Performance majors, a major chamber music work must be included in a public performance before graduation. Students should consult with their piano teacher and other appropriate faculty in the term prior to the performance term for repertoire and instrumental student assignments.

Students participating in chamber music should enroll in the applicable course numbers: MUS 069 (Brass Ensemble), MUS 070 (Woodwind Ensemble), MUS 071 (Percussion Ensemble), MUS 072 (String Ensemble), MUS 073 (String Quartet), and MUS 074 (Saxophone Quartet). Wind/Percussion Performance majors should enroll in MUS 505 (Chamber Music for Winds and Percussion) before graduation. Piano Performance majors should enroll in MUS 565 (Chamber Ensemble Piano) at least once before graduation.

Any student seeking to include a chamber work on a recital should refer to the requirements listed in the Recital section of this handbook. Requests must be made by the student's principal teacher in the semester before the intended date of the recital.

The Recital Hall is NOT available for routine practice. To insure appropriate preservation of the quality of the Music Department's concert grand pianos, guidelines have been established regarding the availability of practice time in the Recital Hall. Students may use the Recital Hall facilities for practice only when preparing for a recital appearance. The following maximum limits have been established for recital preparation using the concert grand pianos:
- Senior Recital (full recital) - four hours
- Junior Recital or Senior Half Recital - two hours
- Regular Student Recital performance (Tuesday recital) - thirty minutes
(B) SCHEDULING
A schedule book for the Recital Hall is maintained in the Music Office. Students should reserve their allocated time for practice in the Recital Hall by signing for the times desired in the schedule book. See the Appendix section for a suggested time line of recital details. The complete recital packet, containing examples and all necessary forms, is available online or via the music office. Tuesday afternoon recitals use a smaller form which is also available online or from the music office. Space on Tuesday recitals is limited, plan ahead!

Students must be enrolled in performance studies during the term they appear on recital. Music Education majors are NOT eligible during their student teaching term.

(C) PIANO ACCESS
Daniel Recital Hall is equipped with three fine performance instruments; two Steinway concert grand pianos, one purchased in 2018 (“new”) and the other purchased in 1991 (“old”), as well as a Yamaha concert grand.

The Steinway grand pianos are to remain locked at all times when not in use.

The “new” Steinway is to be covered when not in use, and is restricted for use as follows:

- Faculty solo and chamber recitals
- Visiting Artist solo and chamber recitals
- Music degree recitals
- Music Department sponsored recording sessions
- Other programs with permission of the Chair and/or Keyboard Area.

The “new” Steinway generally will NOT be available for regular rehearsals, works involving prepared piano, Tuesday recitals, and other programs not sponsored by the Furman Music department.

For other Music Department events, the “old” Steinway will be available for use. Key access is obtained through the keyboard faculty or via the music office.

For non-music department events and works involving prepared piano, access is limited to the Yamaha grand unless specifically authorized by the keyboard area or Department Chair.

SECTION 22.02
Recital Performance

Music majors are encouraged to gain performance experience through participation in the weekly general recitals on Tuesday afternoon. Performance faculty members submit to the music office recital information forms for students who are prepared to perform. A student desiring to present a recital must be registered for Performance Studies at Furman in the term of the proposed recital and must obtain instructor permission to present a recital.

(A) SENIOR RECITALS

- Scheduling

All Performance majors are required to present a full recital (playing time, approximately 50-60 minutes) during the senior year. Music majors in areas other than Performance may present either a full recital or a half recital during the senior year, upon approval of their performance studies teachers.

Approval to present a senior vocal recital must be obtained in the spring of the junior year at the spring jury. Beginning in 2008-2009, all senior Bachelor of Arts music/voice majors will only give half recitals. Exceptions would be considered on a case by case basis. BA (vocalists) will NOT be allowed to present junior year recitals.

Only Bachelor of Music vocal majors may give voice recitals during second semester. Other students giving voice recitals shall share recitals (two recitalists) during fall semester.

- Performance Jury

Recitalists must be prepared to perform their senior recital repertory for the faculty in their area of performance approximately four weeks prior to the scheduled recital date. If this recital jury is satisfactory, the student will present the recital as scheduled. If the recital jury is unsatisfactory, the recital must be rescheduled for a later date and preceded again by a recital jury. Program information for all senior recitals must be submitted to the Music Office 3 weeks prior to the recital date. The recital will be presented at 8:00 p.m. Monday – Friday.

(B) JUNIOR RECITALS

- Scheduling

All performance majors are required to present a half-recital (approximately 30 minutes) during the junior year. Music majors in areas other than performance may present a half-recital during the junior year, upon approval of their principal teacher. BAs with a vocal emphasis will NOT be allowed to present junior year recitals; see vocal study guidelines for specifics.

Program information for all junior recitals must be submitted to the Music Office at least three weeks prior to the recital date. Receptions are reserved for senior recitals, only. Junior recitals are normally presented at 7:00 p.m. Monday – Friday.

All recitals must be scheduled through the Music Department Office.

(C) HONORS RECITALS

- Scheduling

Twice each academic year (in fall and spring) the Music Department will schedule Honors Recitals featuring seven outstanding student performers from the junior and senior classes. After each faculty member (both full-time and part-time) has had the opportunity to nominate one student, the full-time faculty votes on the list of nominees to determine the selection of the seven student performers for an Honors Recital.

- Eligibility

The same student cannot appear as a featured performer on two consecutive Honors Recitals (the exception to this rule is made in the instance of a student being nominated in different performing mediums). Appearing as an accompanist for an Honors Recital does not, however, disqualify a student from being selected for a solo appearance at the next recital.

Students must be enrolled in performance studies during the term they appear on recital. Music Education majors are NOT eligible during their student teaching term.

(D) RECITAL PROCEDURES

- Selecting a Date

Selecting a time and date should be done as far in advance as possible. This decision should be made with the approval of the performance studies teacher and the Music Department Office.
Priority for these dates will be given in the following order. These dates are intended as guidelines, and exceptions—a far-advanced booking of a guest artist, for example—are expected. Requests should be made to Denisse Cabrera via e-mail.

_Dates:_

- Ensembles November 1 (Preceding Year)
- Faculty and guest artist recitals: March 15 (Preceding Year)
- Senior performance recitals: March 31 (Preceding Year)
- Other degree required recitals: April 15 (Preceding Year)
- Composition recitals: April 15 (Preceding Year)
- Non degree student recitals: April 20 (Preceding Year)
- Student chamber music recitals: April 20 (Preceding Year)
- University-sponsored; all other: September 15 (Current year)

- Scheduling

  Because the music faculty feels that their attendance at student recitals is important, and because we want our performances to be attended by members of the Furman community at large, student and ensemble programs will be scheduled on evenings, Monday through Friday. Exceptions to this policy must be based on compelling or unusual circumstances; application for exceptions must be generated and justified by the student’s applied teacher and submitted to the department chair for approval.

- Cancellations

  Cancellations and postponements should be avoided, but when unavoidable the Music Department Office, accompanist and your performance studies teacher should be informed immediately.

- Program Deadlines

  The "Program Application" form (available in the Music Department Office or online) should be completed and submitted to the Music Department Office three weeks prior to the scheduled performance.

- Performance studies Teacher Signature

  Once the "Program Application" form has been completed, the student must have the signature of his or her performance studies teacher before it is submitted to the Music Department Office. This signature indicates that the teacher approves of the program and the student's preparedness for the performance. You should be taking private lessons from this teacher during the term in which the recital is scheduled.

- Music Major's Senior Recital

  Approximately three weeks prior to the performance, a senior recitalist must play for a faculty jury comprised of the performance studies teachers in their performance area. An unsatisfactory evaluation from this jury will require that the student postpone the scheduled recital. It is the applied teacher's responsibility to arrange the time and contact the faculty for this jury. Also, the student must bring to the jury the completed "Program Application" form. This form must then be submitted to the Music Department Office with the jury's evaluation and the performance studies teacher's signature of approval.

- Use of Other Performers

  - The use of other students on any recital or concert must meet with the written approval of the division head and applied instructor in the area from which the student is drawn. The division head will secure permission from the applied instructor before approval is met for the recital. All approvals should be requested during the semester prior to the recital.

  - For all Furman Music Department performances, every effort should be made to involve Furman students/faculty whenever possible. When a student desires to involve a performer who is not a Furman student, permission must be obtained from the performance studies teacher. The performance studies teacher should have the approval of the appropriate other faculty and the Chair before granting permission to involve a non-Furman student.
(E) RECORDING STUDIO ARRANGEMENTS
This is an optional service. Both the Music Department and Daniel Chapel provide professional sound recording services for performances. For both Daniel Recital Hall and Daniel Chapel performances, complete a “Recording Contract” (available in the Music Department Office or on the Music website) and return it to the Music Department Office at least one month prior to the performance. Recording tech services and supplies are paid for by the performer. Fees are specified on the form. Other means of recording are not restricted.

(F) DRESS CODE
For the women, a dress or pant suit of semi-formal nature is expected—short skirts, revealing tops and open mid-drifts are inappropriate. For the men, coat, tie and dress shoes are expected. The Honors recital and Junior/Senior recitals are more formal and long dresses (or formal semi-long) are required for the women, and tuxedos for the men. Those attending the recitals should likewise be dressed in a manner that reflects respect for the performers and the music they present.

(G) USHERS
The person or persons presenting the recital are expected to provide ushers. The only exception is the Honors Recital and the designated concert series performances.

(H) PROGRAMS
Programs for degree-required recitals are supplied by the department at no cost to the student. Program printing costs for recitals that are NOT required in the degree program are paid by the performers. Program note printing costs are paid by all performers, regardless of degree. Program and program note formatting and printing must be arranged by the Department Assistant. Program notes should be factually related to the recital repertoire and approved by your performance studies teacher; personal remembrances or notes are not appropriate and should not be included in program materials.

ARTICLE XXIII. USE OF FACILITIES and EQUIPMENT

SECTION 23.01 BUILDING HOURS
The Daniel Music Building and Herring Music Pavilion hours are 7:00 a.m. – 10:30 p.m. Monday through Sunday, except during holiday breaks and campus shut down days. Card swipe access is given to all students enrolled in private lessons. No building access is permitted between 2:00 a.m. and 6:00 a.m. Monday through Sunday.

SECTION 23.02 REHEARSAL HALLS
Use of Harper Hall, the D-13 Large Ensemble Instrumental Rehearsal Hall and the McAlister Small Ensemble Instrumental Rehearsal Hall is by permission only and scheduled by the Office of the Chairman. Unauthorized use of these facilities and their respective equipment is prohibited. Use of the teaching stations by students is prohibited unless under the direct supervision of a faculty member.

SECTION 23.03 CLASSROOMS
Use of D-3 and D-104 is scheduled by Academic Affairs with approval by the Music Chair. Individuals may briefly warm-up or practice in an open room. More extended uses should be scheduled through the Office of the Music Chair. Use of the teaching stations by students is prohibited unless under the direct supervision of a faculty member. ALWAYS RESET A CLASSROOM IF YOU MOVE ANY FURNITURE.

SECTION 23.04 EQUIPMENT
Musical equipment, stands and chairs should remain in their designated areas or be returned immediately following use. Please alert your ensemble director to any damage or non-compliance.
SECTION 23.05  COPIERS

Students may use the copier in the Maxwell Music Library for small copy jobs of non-copyrighted material. There is a small fee for copier use. Larger copy jobs should be taken to the P2X copy center located in the Trone Student Center. The copier in the Mail Room is for faculty/staff use.

SECTION 23.06  LOCKER ASSIGNMENTS

Lockers may be signed out from the Band Office at the beginning of the first semester and returned before or during exams in the final semester. A refundable key deposit is paid when the locker key is issued. Music students may hold their locker through senior year, at which time the key is due and deposit returned.

SECTION 23.07  INSTRUMENT STORAGE ROOMS

For security reasons, access to instrumental storage rooms is controlled and monitored. Rooms should remain locked at all times when not in use. Storage rooms are not to be used for practice. The storage of personal instruments in these spaces is by permission only. Cello Room: For students enrolled in applied cello and double bass. Band: Owners of instruments too large for locker storage may discuss storage room options with Dr. Hicken, Dr. Olson or Dr. Carmenates as appropriate.

SECTION 23.08  PRACTICE ROOMS

Each semester, on the first Tuesday of classes, a student meeting takes place during recital time; practice room sign-ups will take place following the meeting. Initial sign-up should be limited to 2 hours. If a student finds a scheduled room unoccupied, the room may be used until the registered student arrives. It is urged that students observe their practice schedule conscientiously.
